14TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME, JULY 4, 2010
LUKE 10:1-12, 17-20

In this Sunday's gospel Jesus refers three times to an abundant harvest. The natures of this harvest is evident through the ministry of the disciples Jesus sends forth: peace, stability, nourishment, healing, rejoicing. This is no ordinary harvest of the fruits of the earth. This harvest is the fruit of God's kingdom "at hand" through the very ministry of Jesus and his disciples. Moreover, the harvest is being reaped today through us who continue to go forth in Jesus' name. Jesus (and Isaiah in the first reading) announces that God is bringing about a kingdom where abundance is measured not by possessions but by the quality of our relationships.

When do I experience that the abundance of "the kingdom of God is at hand"? Jesus is sending me to announce the kingdom in my daily life. What are some of the obstacles I encounter?

What are some of the ways that I am manifesting the kingdom's presence?

Aquinas Newman Center Parishioner Peter D. Robinson was recognized recently by Catholic Charities as a Hands of the Holy Spirit honoree. "In addition to being a parishioner of the Newman Center, Peter is known around Catholic Charities as a long time volunteer. For over 13 years he has assisted young and adult students learn the English language, conquer math and advance their studies. With respect for his students and their life experiences he has helped many to become more at ease with their English, to graduate and achieve citizenship. His volunteerism and contribution to Catholic Charities did not stop and when asked, he answered the call to assist on the agency's Finance and Audit Committee and now serves on the Board of Directors and is Treasurer of Catholic Charities. Pete is an example of the laity answering the call to service." Our heartfelt congratulations to Peter!
